How can this employee best improve his/her performance? (Include setting Career /Performance Goals).

Twenty four weeks ago, Sgt. Gymburch was promoted to the rank of Sergeant. In that time frame I have closely monitored her performance. She appears to me to be an intelligent and competent supervisor. She should continue to build upon her confidence and increase her knowledge of UPD policy as well as all applicable local and state laws and procedures.

General Appearance - Sgt. Gymburch always comes to work with a neatly pressed uniform. Her appearance is always professional and polished.

Attendance - Sgt. Gymburch has not used any sick time this year.

Punctuality - Sgt. Gymburch always shows up early for work.

Interaction with other members of the department - Sgt. Gymburch and I had a conversation regarding crime scene management. Not that she did anything wrong but more along the lines of improvement. A question then came up regarding her being able to take constructive criticism in regards to that conversation. I then had a conversation with her about how as a supervisor she needs to be accepting of constructive criticism and understand that the point of such critiques is not to embarrass or demean but to improve our performance. None of us are perfect. We all have a myriad of strengths and weaknesses. The ability to accept constructive criticism and learn from it makes us better officers, supervisors and leaders within the department.

How can this employee best improve his/her performance? (Include setting Career /Performance Goals).

Sixteen weeks ago, Sgt. Gymburch was promoted to the rank of Sergeant. I feel that she is a very effective and competent front line supervisor. I have seen her work very hard on the street and during this very busy summer she has proven that she can handle the stress and responsibilty associated with a very active shift with a very high call volume.

Knowledge of Laws - PO Gymburch has a working knowledge of the Penal Law and Criminal Procedural Law. PO Gymburch will continue to expand her knowledge of the laws through training and as her time on the job grows.

Communications Skills - PO Gymburch has showed repeatedly to be one of the better communicators on the day shift. I have personally observed on several occasions her communication skills end potentially volatile situations without any use of force.

How can this employee best improve his/her performance? (Include setting Career /Performance Goals).

PO Gymburch is a valued member of the Patrol Division, who is routinely relied upon to complete tasks outside of her normal duties. PO Gymburch should continue her training in order to expand her knowledge of the law. PO Gymburch should strive to take on specialty assignments such as Field Training Officer, and Police Instructor as it is apparent she is willing to take on further responsibilities.

regarding PO A. Gymburch RMS # 19-11904

Mayor,

Please see the email listed below. Sergeant Geddes received a telephone compliment about Officer Abby Gymburch in regards to her handling of a custody dispute. From experience "child custody dispute" can be one of the most volatile calls that a police officer can response to. Officer Gymburch's handling of this matter speaks well about our agency.

Great job, Abby!

Megan, please place a copy of this email in Officer Gymburch's personnel file.

Mark Williams Chief of Police 413 Oriskany Street West Utica, New York 13502

Dear Chief Williams: I have written to you in the past praising the police in your department that I have come in contact with. I feel not enough positive feedback is ever given to the wonderful men and women of your department.

I wish to commend the female officer who responded to my call this past Thursday, January 31, 2019. She responded (I did not get the spelling of her name but trying to come close it was A. Grmych) and took my statement as I had called regarding a tenant here at She was so kind and understanding. She took my statement and explained that the procedure was to get a statement from the other party in question. Your officer displayed a very positive training. She was very compassionate and when she left I felt very relieved and was thoroughly impressed by her response to my having had to call the police department.

This officer is truly an asset to the Utica Police Department.

Dear Chief of Police Williams,

Three or four weeks ago there was an incident at Mother Marianne's Westside Kitchen. One of the guests was being disruptive and the police needed to be called. Four of your officers responded and I want to commend them and you on their handling of the situation. They were calm and did not allow themselves to be goaded into acting inappropriately. They listened to the insults directed at them and reacted passively. They eventually arrested the individual.

Also, I want to thank you for the police presence blocking traffic on June 3 after the 10:30 Mass at St. Joseph St. Patrick Church. We had a procession around the block for Corpus Christi Sunday and your officers provided safety for those who walked.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Rev. Richard Dellos, Pastor

Wheeler said that he rolled his left ankle while running from police. responded and Wheeler was transported to St. Elizabeth's Hospital for treatment.
